Important Reminders

- Register early for summer classes!
- Grant funding is limited for the summer. Apply early!
- The later a student submits their FAFSA and/or Summer Application, the later their funds will be available. Students who file a late FAFSA application will be expected to pay their own expenses and wait until their funds arrive to be reimbursed.
- Check your official UNT email regularly. Official notifications from our office will be sent via email whenever possible.
- Visit http://financialaid.unt.edu regularly for news and important updates including UNT’s financial aid Priority Dates for Fall/Spring 2015-2016.

For Your Information

- Financial aid cost of attendance is based on your anticipated summer enrollment, as indicated on your summer application.
- Financial aid eligibility is based on your undergraduate or graduate career and academic program. If you graduate or are admitted to a graduate program prior to Summer 2015, your aid eligibility must be re-evaluated. It is your responsibility to notify SFAS at any point your academic program changes. Please refer to the following website to determine eligibility for graduate and post-baccalaureate academic programs: http://financialaid.unt.edu/graduate-academic-program-information
- Scholarship checks should be submitted to SFAS for posting and disbursement before the payment deadline of the summer session(s) in which you enroll.
- Concurrent Enrollment Agreements are not processed during the summer term.
- Questions regarding the refund process at UNT can be addressed with Student Accounting and University Cashiering Services in the Eagle Student Services Center or by visiting: http://essc.unt.edu/saucs/refunds.html

Important Information for Summer 2015

Summer Priority Date: February 15, 2015
Summer Application Deadline: July 13, 2015

Have financial aid questions?
To be considered for Summer 2015 financial aid, you must:

- Be accepted for admission by the university and enrolled in an eligible degree program. Visiting students are not eligible for financial aid.
- Complete the 2014-2015 Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) or the Renewal FAFSA. The 2014-2015 FAFSA is available online at http://www.fafsa.gov through June 30, 2015; however, UNT’s Priority Date for summer aid consideration is February 15, 2015.
- Complete the Summer Application for Financial Aid online at http://my.unt.edu. The application deadline is July 13, 2015.
- Verify and finalize any pending items by checking your “To Do List” on myUNT at http://my.unt.edu.

Disbursement of Financial Aid Funds

- For your awards to disburse, your awards must be “accepted” on myUNT at http://my.unt.edu. You can also “decline” awards you do not want to receive.
- Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) is being monitored at the end of each term. You must be meeting the minimum standards for SAP by the end of any given enrollment period at UNT in order to maintain financial aid eligibility.
- Disbursement of most financial aid funds to undergraduate students will occur once you establish half-time (6 undergraduate hours) attendance.
- Disbursement of most financial aid funds to graduate students will occur once you establish half-time (5 graduate hours) attendance.
- State and institutional grant funds will be disbursed in one disbursement on the 1st class day of the session in which you establish half-time attendance.
- Federal grant payments may be delayed due to required review by SFAS staff. These payments are based on your annual limit and on your summer enrollment status. Please note: some grants have additional requirements and are not guaranteed.
- Loan funds will be disbursed in one disbursement on the 1st class day of the session in which you establish half-time attendance. You must have completed Entrance Counseling requirements and have a signed Master Promissory Note (MPN) on file with your lender before funds will disburse.
- If you have been awarded your maximum Direct Stafford Loan eligibility during the Fall/Spring 2014-2015 terms, you will not be eligible for loan funds during the Summer 2015 term.

Anticipated Aid

- If the total amount of your Anticipated Aid does not cover your full tuition and fee balance, you must make arrangements for the difference by contacting Student Accounting and University Cashiering Services in order to prevent your classes from being dropped (regardless of whether your financial aid and scholarship proceeds are available by the payment deadline).
- Anticipated Aid is: (1) Scholarships you have been awarded, and/or (2) financial aid you have “Accepted” on myUNT.
- Anticipated Aid does NOT include Work Study or Parent (PLUS) Loans or Grad PLUS Loans that have been denied due to adverse credit history by the borrower’s lender.
- The Parent (PLUS) Loan and the Grad PLUS Loan will count toward Anticipated Aid if the Parent (PLUS) Loan borrower or Grad PLUS Loan borrower does not have an adverse credit history and Student Financial Aid and Scholarships has received a credit approval through the Federal Direct Loan Program.

Attendance and Withdrawal Information

- You must adhere to class attendance requirements as defined by the university if you enroll in internet classes.
- If you register for summer classes and decide not to attend, you are REQUIRED to notify BOTH Student Financial Aid and Scholarships (SFAS) AND the Dean of Students Office immediately to begin the withdrawal process.
- Dropping courses below half-time prior to disbursement of financial aid may result in your becoming ineligible for all non-disbursed aid. Additionally, if class attendance is not established, you will become ineligible for disbursed aid and therefore owe a debt to the university.
- If you withdraw from UNT prior to the 60% point of the summer session(s) you are scheduled to attend, you may owe a repayment of financial aid funds to the program(s) from which they were awarded (thus owing a debt to the university).
- Failure to officially withdraw may result in the receipt of failing grades and you may owe a repayment of financial aid funds to the program(s) from which they were awarded (thus owing a debt to the university).
- Students who receive failing grades (F’s, WF’s and/or NP’s) in ALL classes while also receiving federal financial aid may owe a repayment of financial aid funds to the program(s) from which they were awarded (thus owing a debt to the university).
- Withdrawing from classes or failing to complete and pass registered hours will affect your future eligibility for financial aid. You must meet SAP requirements to maintain eligibility for financial aid as defined by SFAS.
- If you have outstanding charges from a previous award year, you must pay your balance before any current term funds will be posted to your tuition and fee account.
- For Title IV purposes, a student who has enrolled in a session(s) offered in the summer term and does not complete the session(s) in which he was enrolled is considered to have withdrawn and a Return to Title IV calculation (R2T4) will be completed.
- SFAS will not consider you to have withdrawn for the summer term if:
  - You give the institution written confirmation that you will attend a session that begins later in the summer term.
  - The written confirmation must be provided at the time that would otherwise have been a withdrawal.
  - If you do not attend the later session(s), the date of withdrawal from the previous session will be used as the official withdrawal date to determine the amount of Title IV aid to be returned based on the R2T4 calculation.
